13698 - Is it permissible to walk naked in a locked room after having intercourse?

the question

I was reading your page on "Disallowed Matters". There is one section that says you can not walk naked. What about if are in the privacy of your bedroom, separate from the whole house, with the door closed. After intercourse with your spouse.

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

If the situation is as described in the question, then that is permissible, because it is permissible for each of them to look at the other with the intention of enjoyment. See question no. 3801.

And it was narrated from the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) that a man should cover his ‘awrah except from his wife and female slave (concubine). It was narrated that Bahz ibn Hakeem said: my father told me from my grandfather, who said: “I said, ‘O Messenger of Allah, with regard to our ‘awrah, from whom should we cover it?’ He said, ‘Cover your ‘awrah from everyone except your wife or (the slave woman) whom your right hand possesses.’ He asked, ‘What if a man is with another man?’ He said, ‘If you can avoid letting anyone see that, then do that.’ He asked, ‘What if a man is on his own?’ He said, ‘Allah is more deserving that he should be modest before Him.’” (Narrated by al-Tirmidhi, al-Adab, 2693; classed as hasan by al-Albani in Saheeh Sunan al-Tirmidhi, no. 222). The hadith indicates that a person should cover up when he is alone.

And Allah knows best.