

192515 - Ruling on taking birth control pills before the farewell tawaaf

the question

I am going for Hajj, by Allah's leave, and my monthly period will come on the 10th (of Dhu'l-Hijjah). I am going to take birth control pills so that I will be able to do tawaaf al-ifaadah.

My question is:

Is it permissible to stop taking the pills after tawaaf for fear of them causing harm, because I am unmarried, or do I have to keep taking them until the farewell tawaaf?

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

Firstly:

Tawaaf al-ifaadah is one of the pillars or essential parts of the Hajj, which is not waived in the case of a menstruating woman or anyone else, but the menstruating woman cannot circumambulate the Ka'bah until she becomes pure (i.e., her period ends and she does ghusl), because the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said to 'Aa'ishah when she menstruated: "Do what the pilgrims do, except do not circumambulate the Ka'bah until you become pure." Narrated by al-Bukhaari (1650)

It says in al-Mawsoo'ah al-Fiqhiyyah (18/320): There is no difference of opinion among the fuqaha' that menses does not prevent the woman from doing any of the actions of Hajj apart from tawaaf, because the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) said to 'Aa'ishah when she menstruated: "Do what the pilgrims do, except do not circumambulate the Ka'bah. duration, so that she will be able to circumambulate the Ka'bah (tawaaf).

Shaykh 'Abd al-'Azeez ibn Baaz (may Allah have mercy on him) was asked:

What is the ruling on a woman using pills to prevent her monthly period during the days of Hajj?

He (may Allah have mercy on him) replied: There is nothing wrong with that, because it serves a purpose, so that she will be able to do tawaaf with the people and so that she will not hold her travelling companions back.

Secondly:

With regard to the farewell tawaaf, an exception was made for menstruating women. al-Bukhaari (1755) and Muslim (1328) narrated that Ibn 'Abbaas (may Allah be pleased with him) said: The people were commanded that the last thing they should do is to circumambulate the House, but an exception was made for menstruating women.

Ahmad (3495) narrated that Ibn 'Abbaas (may Allah be pleased with him) used to say that the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) granted a concession allowing the menstruating woman to leave before doing tawaaf, if she had already done tawaaf al-ifaadah.

It says in al-Mawsoo'ah al-Fiqhiyyah (18/320): The fuqaha' are unanimously agreed that the menstruating woman may leave (Makkah) without doing the farewell tawaaf, so as to make things easier for her, because of the hadeeth of 'Aa'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her), according to which Safiyyah (may Allah be pleased with her) got her menses, so the Prophet (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) instructed her to leave without doing the farewell tawaaf. And it was narrated that Tawoos said: I was with Ibn 'Abbaas when Zayd ibn Thaabit said: You issue fatwas stating that the menstruating woman may leave without the last thing she does being to circumambulate the Ka'bah. Ibn 'Abbaas said to him: Why not? Ask So and So the Ansaari woman whether the Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) instructed her to do that. Then Zayd ibn Thaabit came back to Ibn 'Abbaas smiling and saying: I see that you are right. End quote.

As that is the case, so long as there will be no harm done by your continuing to take those pills until you have completed all the rituals of Hajj and done the farewell tawaaf around the Ka'bah, that is good, especially when the time between the two tawaafs is usually short.

But if you fear that this may cause you harm, then there is nothing wrong with you refraining from it. If you remain pure (i.e., do not get your period), then that is fine, otherwise you may avail yourself of the concession granted by the Messenger of Allah (blessings and peace of Allah be upon him) to the menstruating woman, by leaving without doing the farewell tawaaf.

And Allah knows best.
