

Islam Question & Answer

General Supervisor:
Shaykh Muhammad Saalih al-Munajjid

20108 - Women removing hair from the face

---

the question

I know it is forbidden for a woman to remove hair from her eyebrows, but what about the rest of the face? Is it permissible for a woman to remove hair from the upperlip or other parts of the face? If the woman is especially hairy?.

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allaah.

Firstly:

It says in Fataawa al-Lajnah al-Daa'imah (17/133): "It is not permissible to remove the hair of the eyebrows because this is the namas (plucking) for which the Messenger of Allaah (peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him) cursed those who do it, and it is a kind of changing the creation of Allaah, which is the action of the Shaytaan. If a woman's husband tells her to do it, she should not obey him, because it is a sin, and there is no obedience to any created being if it involves disobedience towards the Creator. Rather obedience should only be with regard to things that are good and proper, as the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him) said."

Secondly:

It is permissible to remove any hair from the face apart from the hair of the eyebrows.

It says in Fataawa al-Lajnah al-Daa'imah (17/130): "The evidence that it is permissible for a woman to remove hair from her body is the basic principle which states that it required for her to adorn herself for her husband. There is no evidence to suggest that this is not allowed, apart from the prohibition on al-namas (plucking), which means removing hair from the eyebrows."

Islam Question & Answer

General Supervisor:

Shaykh Muhammad Saalih al-Munajjid

And it also says (5/197): “What is the Islamic ruling on removing hair that grows between the eyebrows? The Committee replied: It is permissible to pluck it, because it is not part of the eyebrows.”

And Allaah knows best.