

9941 - Grocery store selling foods containing pork ingredients

the question

Is it permissible to sell foods which contain pork or alcohol? There are many Muslims in America who own grocery stores where they sell beer, pork and tobacco, or they work in such stores.

Detailed answer

It is not permissible to sell that which it is haraam to eat or to use – this includes the things mentioned in the question.

From Fataawaa al-Lajnah al-Daa'imah, 13/47