

105408 - Women using black dye on their hands

the question

Is it permissible for women to draw on their hands using a black dye? .

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

There is nothing wrong with using the black dye that is called dooj, but if the dooj has any substance that prevents the water from reaching the skin, it must be removed when doing ghusl from janaabah or following menses and nifaas, and when doing wudoo'.

And Allaah is the Source of strength. May Allaah send blessings and peace upon our Prophet Muhammad and his family and companions.
